

Cogent Biosciences Announces Multiple SUMMIT Posters at the 2026 AAAAI Annual Meeting

February 10, 2026

WALTHAM, Mass. and BOULDER, Colo., Feb. 10, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Cogent Biosciences, Inc. (Nasdaq: COGT), a biotechnology company focused on developing precision therapies for genetically defined diseases, today announced multiple upcoming posters highlighting bezuclastinib results from the SUMMIT trial in NonAdvanced Systemic Mastocytosis (NonAdvSM) patients at the 2026 American Academy of Allergy Asthma & Immunology Annual Meeting (AAAAI) being held in Philadelphia, PA, February 27-March 2, 2026.

In December 2025, Cogent announced that the company submitted its New Drug Application for bezuclastinib in NonAdvSM to the U.S. Food and Drug Administration. The submission is based on positive clinical data from the SUMMIT pivotal trial and follows the Breakthrough Therapy Designation for bezuclastinib in patients with SSM and patients with NonAdvSM who have received prior avapritinib.

About Cogent Biosciences, Inc.

Cogent Biosciences is a biotechnology company focused on developing precision therapies for genetically defined diseases. The most advanced clinical program, bezuclastinib, is a selective tyrosine kinase inhibitor that is designed to potently inhibit the KIT D816V mutation as well as other mutations in KIT exon 17. KIT D816V is responsible for driving systemic mastocytosis, a serious disease caused by unchecked proliferation of mast cells. Exon 17 mutations are also found in patients with advanced gastrointestinal stromal tumors (GIST), a type of cancer with strong dependence on oncogenic KIT signaling. The company also has an ongoing Phase 1 study of its novel internally discovered FGFR2/3 inhibitor. In addition, the Cogent Research Team is developing a portfolio of novel targeted therapies to help patients fighting serious, genetically driven diseases targeting mutations in ErbB2, PI3K α , KRAS and JAK2. Cogent Biosciences is based in Waltham, MA and Boulder, CO. Visit our website for more information at www.cogentbio.com.
